VOLCANOLOGIST TO STUDY IN ALEUTIANS

Dr. T. A. Jaggar Tells of His Previous Visit.

Washington.—Nature's battlefront of 65 active volcanoes strewn along an arc running through the Alaskan peninsula and the Aleutian islands will be exposed to the attack of science, if plans made by Dr. T. A. Jaggar, distinguished volcanologist, are realized.

Doctor Jaggar, who is director of the Hawaiian volcano observatory, spent the summer in geological reconnaissance work along the outer Alaskan peninsula and the Aleutians, and recently reported his observations and conclusions to the Department of the Interior.

To Solve Volcanic Problem.

"My dominant thought in going to Alaska," he told the United Press, "was to consider methods for solving the problem of the great volcanic arc and for ascertaining what it means in the economy of nature.

"I believe that a permanent station should be established at Unalaska for the study of volcanic action, earthquakes, magnetism, and other terrestrial problems."

In the course of its reconnaissance trip Doctor Jaggar observed economic conditions of the Aleutian region. He visited Nushagak, chief center of the Alaska canning industry and headquarters for the salmon fisheries fleet. He was impressed by the need for thoroughly mapping and charting the areas which he visited.

Many Bays Not Yet Surveyed.

"Many of the present maps are based on old Russian charts," he said. "One hundred and sixty bays west of Unimak, on the Pacific side, have not yet been surveyed."

Notwithstanding his plans for Alaska, Doctor Jaggar strongly emphasized that the center of his affections, as well as of his work in connection with volcanoes, would continue to be Hawaii.

"I have been in Hawaii 16 years, and shall be content to remain there the rest of my life," he said.

"The volcano Kilauea and its famous firepit of Kalemaumau, spouting fire in July and showing signs of early renewal of activity, will always be a strong attraction for visitors."

Doctor Jaggar indicated that the center of volcanological studies of the geological survey, whether at Mount Lassen, California; in Alaska, or in Hawaii, would continue to be at the Hawaii volcano observatory.

Industries Now Seek to Keep Workers Well

Cincinnati.—The entire industrial world is beginning to appreciate the dollars and cents value of keeping employees well, according to Dr. Ethan A Turner of this city.

Speaking before the American Public Health association meeting here, Doctor Turner declared that the records of the industrial plant in which he has been medical director for several years showed that there was a 50 per cent reduction in the time lost on account of injuries and approximately a 50 per cent reduction in absenteeism on account of sickness as a result of a preventive medicine program.

"Industry is a fertile field for the practice of preventive medicine," said Doctor Turner. "The industrial plant is like a laboratory where the industrial physician has a definite group of persons that can be kept under constant supervision for at least eight hours a day. During this period he also is in a position to advise in the conditions under which men work."

Production Speeded Up by Better Organization

New York.—Mechanization and improved organization have so improved productivity of the manufacturing industry in the United States since the beginning of the century that an average of 67 workers in 1925 produced as much as 100 men turned out in 1899, despite the shorter hours now prevailing, according to a study of productive efficiency made by the national industrial conference board.

If the productivity of industry through mechanization should continue to increase in the same manner and at the same rate for the next 25 years, it would at the end of that time require but 45 men to produce what now requires a force of nearly 70, and which a little more than 25 years ago necessitated the employment of 100 men. Such calculation, however speculative it may be, does not overdraw the striking advances constantly being made in the way of mechanization and more efficient co-ordination of effort in manufacturing processes.

Cloth for Women's Garb Communistic Propaganda

Harbin.—The Russian woman who had a summer dress made from a piece of pink patterned calico which she purchased in some shop at Harbin was hardly aware that she was infringing the recent orders of the Chinese authorities against communistic propaganda.

But when later on the pattern formed of various steel letters of the Russian alphabet was attentively examined, it was discovered that they formed the legend: "Proletarians of the World—Unite!"

This calico formed part of a shipment of soviet cotton goods which recently reached Harbin.

Effect of Slander

To be continually subject to the breath of slander will tarnish the purest virtue, as a constant exposure to the atmosphere will obscure the brightness of the finest gold; but in either case the real value of both continues the same, although the currency may be somewhat impeded.—Colton.

MOOSE HUNTING IN NORTH ALASKA

Animals on Increase Despite Yearly Slaughter.

Anchorage, Alaska.—Eleven parties of well-equipped hunters from many places in the world left here for the spruce and birch forests on Kenai peninsula where dwell the antlered monarchs of the silent bogans—moose. Calling or stalking in the moist, dark woods of the Far North, experienced and thoughtful guides are necessary, for the wise old bulls of the muskeg offer hunters a master defense of caution, wariness, olfactory and auditory nerve action and fast foot work.

The inevitable call, answered by red-blooded men in early autumn, is each season leading them farther into the north wilderness, yet in spite of the continued hunting these huge animals with queer shovel-shaped antlers are surviving and increasing after a century of slaughter.

In Alaska is found the largest bulls of the species and in Kenai peninsula, about eighty miles northwest of here, a hunter is certain to obtain choice trophies. Moose have been increasing in other parts of Alaska also, and they are numerous along the tributaries of the Yukon river and in the Copper river and Dease lake regions.

Last season the record antlers taken from Alaska had a 72-inch spread with perfect symmetry. Game warden coming out of the moose country recently report more than 3,000 of the large animals in the Kenai. Food conditions there are ideal for moose. There birch and willow twigs grow profusely as well as alder and spruce. Grass and aquatic vegetable matter also offer good moose fodder.

Under the present efficient Alaskan game laws each hunter must take a licensed guide into the moose haunts and a good-sized tax is attached to the sportsman for the privilege of taking home the head and antlers.

To make a moose hunting trip into Alaska also offers hunters an opportunity of either bagging a gigantic brown or grizzly bear or being bagged by brute.

100th Anniversary of Soa Battle Observed

Navarino, Greece.—This little town, which is also listed in the Atlas under the name of "Pylos" and "Neokastro," recently was the spotlight of historical interest.

The occasion is the celebration of the centenary of the Battle of Navarino.

The bay of Navarino was the scene of two great naval battles, the first of which took place in the year 425 B. C., when the Athenians defeated the Spartans in an important sea fight.

The second battle, which is the one of which the anniversary was celebrated, occurred October 20, 1827, when the inhabitants of Navarino witnessed a monster naval combat during which the combined British, French and Russian fleets defeated and, in fact, completely annihilated, the Turks and the Egyptians under Ibrahim Pasha.

The recent celebration took place despite the opposition of the organizing committee who wished to have it postponed until the monument which was to have been dedicated to the memories of the three Christian commanders who defeated the Turks, Vice Admiral Sir Edward Codrington, for Great Britain; Rear Admiral de Rigny, for France, and Rear Admiral Heiden for Russia, was entirely completed.

Hence a rather unusual feature of the ceremony was the fact that instead of "unveiling" the monument, the officials present had to remain content with laying the foundation stone.

Invents New Alloy

Dresden.—An alloy resembling gold, and declared to be just as durable, has been produced by a Bohemian inventor, Joseph Benoffen, according to reports received here. The new metal composition looks like gold, of a rich yellow color, does not oxide, and is much heavier than iron.

Expensive Obstinacy

Lewistown, Pa.—Having refused to pay a school tax of $5.25, Mrs. Lillian Reed of Milroy is in jail. It will cost much more than that for her to get out, such as $39.20 for court costs, $4.40 for a sheriff's fee and her own attorney's fee.

Here's How Much Man Can Lose of Himself

Kansas City, Mo.—A man may go usefully about his work minus a leg, an arm, an eye, his tonsils, appendix, gall bladder, one kidney, part of his lungs and brain and as much as 12 feet of his intestines.

Dr. John F. Erdmann of New York is authority for the statement. He told the Interstate Post-Graduate Medical association here that the number of organs a human being can afford to lose to the knife is steadily increasing, owing to better methods of surgery and increased knowledge of the functions of organs.

Recent developments, he said, were operations on the heart, the removal of entire lobes of the lung and the removal of the gall bladder.

Custom Is Old One

The custom of drinking to health and success to undertakings at banquets dates back to the invasion of the Romans. The word toast appears to have originated from the practice of putting bits of toast in the wine, the guest partaking of such a sippet with the draught of wine as soon as the refectation had passed the lips.

ENGLAND RETURNS INDIAN WAR CLUB

American Museum Acquires Ancient Weapon.

New York.—The war club of an important Indian of the old Iroquois tribe is a new prize acquired from England by the Museum of American Indian, Heye Foundation, here. From marks on the weapon museum experts have been able to reconstruct a good deal of its past career, even though any records or stories attached to it have long since been lost.

The handle of the club is carved with the words "Ogdehtagoe le cannen de Jeanson" which, translated, means "Ogdehtagoe, the friend of Johnson," according to Arthur Woodward of the museum staff. On the other side of the handle is engraved the strange looking word "Warragblyagey," which is the name the Iroquois gave to Sir William Johnson, the British superintendent of Indian affairs shortly before the American Revolution.

Bears Exploit Marks.

"The remainder of the cleared space on the handle is filled with a series of exploit marks," says Mr. Woodward. "There are war belts denoting the number of times the warrior had set out upon the war trail and the number of times he was wounded is shown. There is a rude carving of a full-length figure depicting on the body the tattoo marks worn by an old-time Iroquois fighting man. There are also figures representing 15 men each carrying a gun."

The ancient weapon recalls that in 1758, during the French and Indian war, an Onondaga warrior was slain by the enemy and Sir William Johnson's secretary recorded his death. This Indian bore the name of Otquendagohs, which very nearly approximates the name on the war club, and the knife carried by this Indian bore the same words, "friend of Johnson," that are found on the club.

"It would seem that the knife and club both belonged to the same man," Mr. Woodward says, "and that the club, being a well-executed piece of work and more important than the knife, was taken as spoils of war by the Indian or Frenchman who killed its owner. Later the club may have been captured by some British fighter, and so it found its way to England as a curiosity. It would seem that the club belonged to some important man of the Iroquois who stood in well with Sir William, then the autocrat of Indian affairs."

Sent Back as Curios.

Many of the early colonists sent back to their homes in England, Holland, France, or Spain specimens of Indian "curios," he states. Today these souvenirs are among the most valuable of all American ethnological specimens, because they represent the culture of the American Indian at the time when he first came into contact with the old world civilization.

Usurers Are Targets of Press in France

Paris.—Usurers once more are being tracked down by newspaper campaigns and public spirited citizens in France. After-war legislation has let down the bars so that 10 per cent a month loan sharks flourish. Their prey is furnished by the government, whose vast army of more than a million employees are among the more poorly paid workers. Their need of money drives them to the usurer largely because government functionaries still retain much of the pre-war dignity that makes it difficult for them to borrow from friends.

Unable to prosecute money lenders in most cases, one newspaper has sent its reporters systematically to the loan sharks and reprinted the conversation regarding rates, with pointed comments intended to warn people against excessive charges.

Nation's Health Bill Totals $4,000,000,000

Minneapolis, Minn.—The nation's health bill is $4,000,000,000 — more money than the total cost of administering the United States government —the Co-operative Health Service here is told by Dr. John A. Hornsby, member of the University of Virginia School of Medicine.

Doctor Hornsby, while attending the convention of the American Hospital association, said this money is expended in connection with hospitals and sanatoriums, for drugs, health remedies and patent and quack medicines.

Pointing out that the $4,000,000,000 does not include sickness and necessities that had health for their object, Doctor Hornsby declared that probably the largest sum of money directed to any human activity is invested in health.

140,000,000 Blacks and 4,000,000 Whites in Africa

Sydney.—"There are 140,000,000 blacks and 4,000,000 whites in Africa, and it is only a matter of time until Africa will be ruled by the black man," declared Dr. H. S. Warcham, who has had 25 years of experience in missionary work in northern Rhodesia.

"Africans are not an inferior species of people," said Doctor Warnham, "and they cannot be kept permanently in subjection. But they need the guidance of the white man.

"Co-operation with mutual respect is required."

Really in High Gear

A colored man employed to wash windows at a certain factory in Boston was working so moderately that his actions might very well be termed "slow motion." "Why don't you hurry a little more?" demanded his superior. "Boss, A' has only two speeds and de other am slower than dis one."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Lesson for November 27

JESUS TEACHES TRUE WORSHIP

GOLDEN TEXT—Jno. 1:1-16.

LESSON TEXT—O magnify the Lord with me and let us exalt his name together. I sought the Lord and heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.—Psalm 34:3, 4.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Worshiping God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Worship That Pleases God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Pleases God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Factors of True Worship.

Jesus had a long ministry, beginning in the days of Uzziah and extending through the reign of Jotham, and Hezekiah. For a history of Jesus in this time see II Kings, chapters 15 to 20. Isaiah's visions are the comprehensive purpose of God through the consummation of Messianic reign. Chapter 1 is the title page to the whole book. It contains the indictment of the people for their sins.

I. The Moral State of the People (vv. 1-9).

1. Sinful ingratitude (v. 2).

2. Jehovah is summoned to hear Israel's complaint against Judah (v. 2).

3. Proof for their base ingratitude. Their stupidity (v. 3).

4. Israel and the ass are proverbially stupid, but Israel's stupidity exceeded that of the ass. Israel would not recognize Jehovah as sovereign, nor author of their blessings.

5. Habitual evil doers (v. 4).

6. They were not sinners in act merely, but in mind and heart were laden with iniquity. By heredity they passed on sin from generation to generation.

7. Their Consequent Miseries (vv. 5-8).

8. Their perplexity (v. 5). Chastisement only hardened them. Their afflictions were followed by sin and more heinous sins.

9. Their sinful confusion (v. 6). Iniquity which befell them extended to all classes. No one was left to minister to their comfort. Desolation in the country (vv. 7, 8).

10. Safe from within and invasion, but without left their country (v. 7). Physical ruin always follows moral and spiritual decadence.

11. A saved remnant assured (v. 9). Jehovah's purpose cannot fail. A remnant will be saved in Israel—a remnant that believed in the church.

II. Formal Worship Rebuked (vv. 10-15).

1. Social calamities were not due to religious and political rites and practices. They punctiliously observed the forms of religion while indulging in iniquitous practices.

2. God does not need sacrifices (v. 11).

3. Worship and service are not for God's benefit, but for that of the worshipers themselves.

4. God's attitude toward formal worship (v. 12a).

5. Empty rites and ceremonies which are continued for the purposes of helping to approach Him become distasteful and irksome to Him.

6. God's refusal (v. 12b).

7. The act of worship while the hands that offer it are stained with sin (v. 15) excites the anger of the Almighty.

8. The Abandoned Life God's Requirements (vv. 16-20).

9. Though the nation had so grievously sinned there was not hopelessness. There is only that mercy there is repentance.

10. A cleansing.

11. Then make you clean." The Revised Version by Weber translates the passage by the blood of the Son of God."

12. Forsaking the evil of your doings.

13. There could be no cleansing while they continued in sin.

14. Learn to do evil."

15. Learn to do well" (v. 17).

16. Sin only ceases to do evil by ceasing to sin.

17. Seek Judgment."

18. Israel could only be upright administration of justice against the oppression of others. Burdens must be removed from the oppressed. Justice should be done to the fatherless and the widows should be defended.

19. Encouragement to come to God (v. 18).

20. Though their guilt was great and deep-rooted which befell them was the result of God's pardoning and cleansing grace sufficient.

21. Conditional promises (v. 19).

22. Refusal they could only end in God's terrible warning (v. 20).

23. Spiritual God brings ruin.

III. Religion (vv. 21-31).

1. Loving God with a sincere and heart, ready to obey what He knows, asking His guidance, and following it, believing in Him and receiving life to Him—that is true religion.

2. Cost of Discipleship

3. Jesus calls us to count the cost of discipleship, but He never asks us to do what He knew we could not do. His knowledge of human nature is an arithmetic to count on.—W. J. E. Watkinson.

The farmers in this section have about finished gathering corn and some are preparing tobacco for market. Some have sold small quantities with satisfactory prices, while others are not satisfied—such is life.

Rev. Gray L. Liggon preached to an attentive congregation at Maple Grove on the third Sunday. He has been called to serve a charge at New Kent, near Richmond. His friends, who are numerous here, regret to see him go so far, but he promises to come back some times.

Death has again visited our community, on November 13th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nora McCormick, Mr. Iverson Stephens passed quietly away in his 81st year. His wife preceded him to the grave just three months. His death was not unexpected, as he had been in declining health for many months. He bore his suffering with patient christian fortitude. He leaves to mourn his loss three daughters, Mesdames Rosa, Nora and Sussie McCormick. The service was conducted by Mr. John Hesson. The floral designs were beautiful. A large crowd came to pay the last tribute of respect to his memory. He was one of the old Confederate Veterans and a member of Maple Grove Church. He liked to have the younger people come and talk with him about the war. He could tell many exciting things that happened.

Mr. Thomas Marks and his sister Allie motored from Lynchburg and spent Sunday with Mrs. Ida F. Marks.

The ladies will give an entertainment at Maple Grove Church Thanksgiving night. Come and have a grod time.

The hunting season is here and the country is full of hunters and several have gotten turkeys.

Mr. W. D. Anderson has killed a 11 lb. gobbler.

Mr. M. H. Carter, of Roanoke, is spending a week with his sister Mrs. W. D. Anderson and enjoying a hunt.

Mr. Herman Moore, of Six-Mile Bridge, spent a couple of days hunting with Mr. Dabney Anderson.

Mrs. H. P. Rayligave a quilting Saturday. There were ten ladies present and all enjoyed the day very much. A delightful dinner was served. A large turkey decorated the table and it was delicious.

We are sorry to hear Mr. Homer Reynolds is sick at this writing and hope he will soon be well.

Thursdays' tornado that cut a path thru Washington, causing very heavy property damages and one death, reached this section with a downpour of rain which caused high water, the streams were all higher than they have been for some time, several of the carriers could not make their entire routes.

Mr. P. B. Carter and family, and Mr. Andrews' daughters, all of Lynchburg, spent Sunday with Mrs. W. D. Anderson.

We are very sorry to hear Mrs. T. P. Robertson is sick at this writing and hope she will soon be well and out again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Coleman spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hatcher.

Thanksgiving is here and we have so much to be thankful for, but few of us stop a moment to think, or even thank our Heavenly Father, for our lives, which have been spared thus far.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Church met at the home of Mrs. M. G. Martin last Friday. There was a large attendance and a very nice dinner was served which was enjoyed by all.

We are delighted to have the same pastor return to us for another year.

Mr. T. E. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Andrews and little son Billy, of Roanoke, were visitors in the home of W. E. Moore last week.

Mrs. S. H. Grow and daughter Elnor, of Stapleton, spent Sunday with Mrs. Grows' sister, Mrs. H. O. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Worthy Davis, of Glensville, W. Va., Miss Mary Coleman and Mr. Frank Coleman, of Toga, and Mr. Charles Coleman, of near Oakville, were visitors at the home of Mr. C. A. Moore last Sunday afternoon.

Oakville

On November the fifteenth the B. Y. P. U. of Red Oak Church had a social. Everyone present had a fine time. We wish to thank the social committee: Alice Martin, Isabelle Martin and Vennise Hamilton for this most pleasant evening.

On Friday, November the eighteenth, a debate was given by the English II Class at Oakville High School on the subject: Resolved, "That State Censorship of Motion Pictures should be adopted in the United States."

On the affirmative side was Alice Martin and Vennise Hamilton and on the negative was Christine Barlow and Eaton Harvey. The affirmative convinced the judges that we should have State Censorship of Motion Pictures in the United States.

The regular preaching services were held at Red Oak Baptist Church and also Mount Comfort on Sunday November the twentieth.

Miss Pattie Brandon of the Pamplin faculty spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Rebecca Brandon.

Mr. Richard Harvey of V. P. I. spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harvey.

"Her Honor, The Mayor," a three act comedy, will be given at Oakville school Saturday December the third. Her Honor, The Mayor is a good-natured satire on the "woman's rights" question. Act I, Running for office; Act II, When women rule; Act III, Her lord and master. Come and enjoy two hours fun.

The regular meeting of the Jefferson Literary Society, of Oakville, was held on Tuesday, November 22d. Thanksgiving was the subject of the program.

Mrs. Thorpe had as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Caudle, Margaret Caudle and Misses Morris, Ferguson and Moss.

Miss Mattie Goodman of Spout Springs, is the guest of Mrs. O. W. Martin.

Mrs. J. S. Dorsey, recently entertained in honor of her daughter, Virginia, being her sixteenth birthday. The house was beautifully decorated in ferns and flowers. The young people gathered promptly at 8, o'clock and played rook until a late hour. Mrs. Iona Franklin assisted Mrs. Dorsey in serving delightful refreshments.

The Ladies Aid Society, of the Baptist Church, met Monday at the parsonage and decided to hold a supper and bazaar at the church in the near future.

Mrs. E. E. McClenny attended the General Association, which met in Charlottsville last week.

Mrs. J. J. Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Terry were recent guest of Mrs. J. B. Wilson.

One of the many friends of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Walker presented them with a fine Thanksgiving turkey.

School opened in the new Auditorium on Monday morning. This new Auditorium was much needed and is quite an asset to the town.

Mrs. R. R. Davis who has been in Lynchburg for several weeks for treatment, is expected to return home on Tuesday. Mrs. Davis has not improved as her friends had hoped for.

Mrs. Zadia Davis Carr is improving, we are glad to report.

Mr. Carlos Callaytas, of Washington, spent last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Baldwin.

Mrs. Abner Elam had the misfortune to fall and break her limb a few days ago. She is getting along nicely under the treatment of Dr. E. E. Walker.

Mr. J. W. Canada is building a store on the lot between Franklins and Williams.

Mr. A. H. Clement was in town Monday. He said he didn't have time to talk business. Something else was on his mind.

A Union Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday a. m. at 10.30 at the M. E. Church. Rev. H. M. Wilson will preside.

The new residence of Dr. E. E. Walker is nearing completion. You will find it at 1101 Davis Avenue.

Mr. Kenny Williams is erecting a Cottage on the State Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Harvey, of Washington, N. C., are expected home on Thursday. After this Mr. Harvey will be in the tobacco business at Appomattox.

The members of the M. E. Church are preparing for their new preacher, Rev. J. E. White, who is expected to arrive on Friday.

The high school teachers here, Misses Davis, Brandon and Fox, will attend the Educational Conference in Richmond this week.

Many of our young people are expected home to spend the holidays.

Our men and boys are busy hunting and trapping rabbits and other game.
